

Creating Personal Accountability

The Key To Getting Results

Educator: Linda Galindo
Venue:
The Arcadian Loft,
Toronto
Date: August 14, 2018
Time: 9:00 a.m - 3:30 p.m

The Event

This session is designed to provide a framework and roadmap to create clear agreements and manage expectations. By creating a clear understanding of accountability Linda will provide participants with the tools to evaluate their accountability mindset, hold themselves and other to account and achieve peak performance by staying accountable.

The Outcomes

In this session, participants will learn how to:

1. Apply a new constructive definition of accountability to your day-to-day work life.
2. Evaluate your accountability mindset.
3. Overcome barriers to being and staying accountable.
4. Learn to make clear agreements and manage expectations.
5. Decline taking on additional commitments to avoid negative results.
6. Hold others accountable for agreements in a way that minimizes conflict and encourages growth and development.

Your Educator - Linda Galindo

Linda is a fierce advocate for personal accountability. She wants to create a world in which everyone, regardless of circumstances or position, is accountable for their results. Galindo's mission is to help others to find the courage to see, hear and tell their own truth so they can live fully accountable lives.

Her clients include some of the world's most notable corporations, health care systems, government entities and educational institutions, as well as entrepreneurial companies and non-profits. Clients include: Genentech, Autodesk, Abbott and the YMCA...to name just a few.

The Straight Truth Stop Playing the Game

You have an accountability problem. Underneath it you have a truth problem. It's time to clean it up.

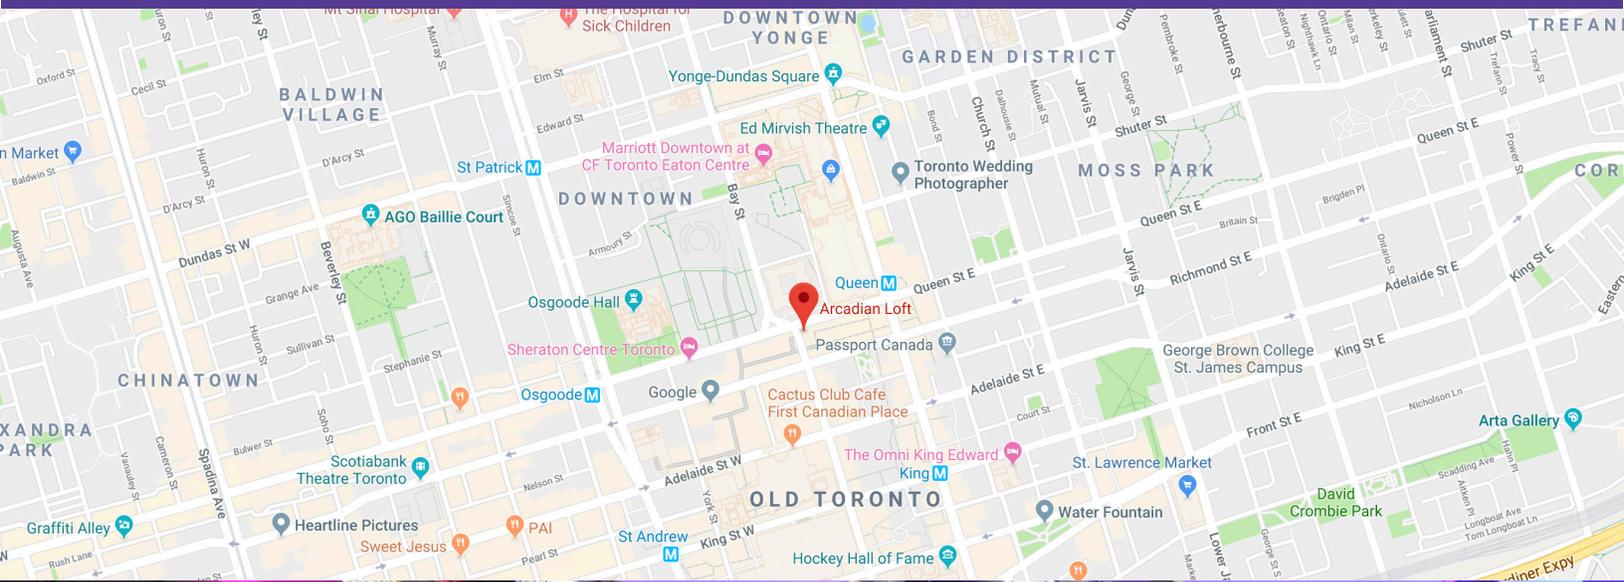

Speak the truth. Be willing to hear the truth. Take ownership. Are you ready?

You will create an accountable culture and get the results you need. Guaranteed.

ARCADIAN LOFT

401 Bay Street, 8th Floor
Toronto, ON
M5H 2Y4

www.ex2.academy